At Eastbrooke, we work with great practices and great doctors

Managing and operating a great family practice or medical centre takes dedication, commitment and persistence. It is a demanding and challenging environment that needs constant attention. There is the continuous balancing of patient, doctor and staff needs.

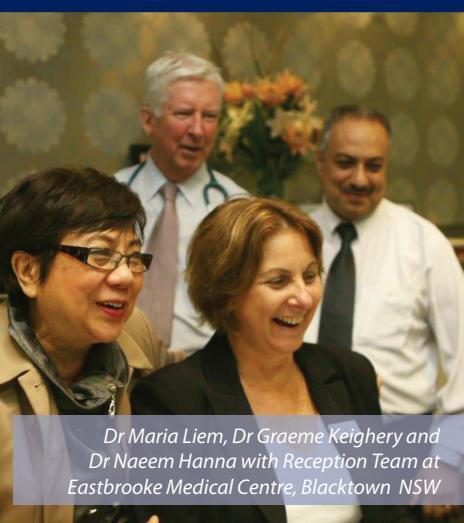

For many, this is a life long journey. It is a lot of hard work so if you are going to do it, it's worth trying to be the best, for yourself, your colleagues, your patients and the community.

- You need to value your patients' wellbeing.
- You need to take care of your staff.
- You need to be prudent in management.
- You need to be innovative, dedicated and passionate.
- You need to be open to new ideas, new approaches and exciting options.
- You need to invest for the future.

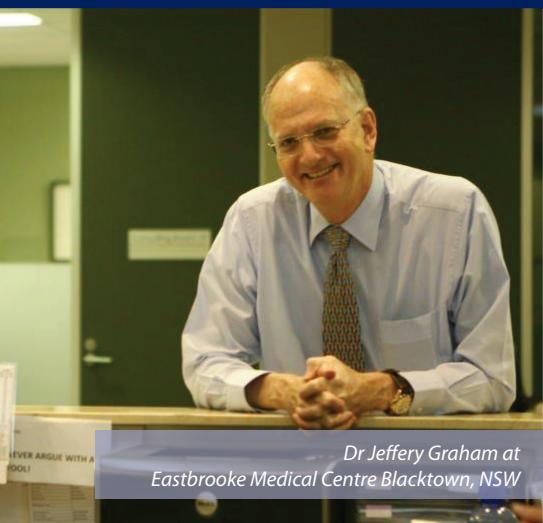

At Eastbrooke, we engage with our doctors, patients and staff to find solutions and to provide the best healthcare possible. We are all part of the solution to providing comprehensive medical services in our centres, succession planning and a balanced lifestyle for doctors.

We design doctor consult rooms around the interests and needs of individual doctors. We tailor to the variety of styles and methods of practice.

Doctors advise on the equipment they want, the staff they want and the type of practice they want. Doctors decide how they want the practice to run and who should and should not work in it.

Nursing support at
Eastbrooke Medical Centre, Carlton NSW

Our nurses design the layout of their treatment rooms and procedure rooms. They manage the treatment rooms and support the doctors. Practice Managers look after their centres with independence and initiative.

For our patients' convenience, we have created and installed our own secure internet booking system to make appointments at any time of the day. We are even developing our own exercise physiology gyms for patients' well being, to exercise in a clinical environment and be supervised to achieve a healthier life.

We are finding ways to support more home visits, investing in medical equipment and training to provide better care and applying new approaches to diabetes prevention and lifestyle diseases.

We have been successful in obtaining extensive government grants to build better centres that respond to all the demands of the changing medical environment. We are constantly looking for ways to help our centres grow and develop, guided by our doctors.

We constantly strive to provide the best family practices, both our own and existing practices that we manage. Either way, attracting the best doctors and staff is our over-riding goal.

If you think Eastbrooke can be of assistance to you or your practice, we look forward to hearing from you.
